FOREWORD

A WORD OF EXPLANATION: Everyone should know that such things as college annuals are usually put out by a small group of variously motivated students who don't know what they are in for until it's too late for them to back out. The usual result is that by the time the copy is due at the printers, all those who thought they had literary ability are aware of its absence, and the editor is found silently staring into the river. Just when everything looks blackest something else comes up, making all former troubles look "Lilliputian." But suddenly things start to click and from chaos and confusion emerges the 1941 KEY, and so the students get another annual with the usual pictures and the usual patter. Should some of the things on the following pages appear a little different, a bit unique, or a trifle humorous, know that a lighter style was thought to be of some small benefit to those who are facing life in none-too-happy times.

Conceded to be the most beautiful building on our campus is the library. Knowledge seeking students passing through the east entrance raise their eyes to read the inscription: "Religion, Morality and Knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall be forever encouraged."

NORTH FROM WOOSTER

Looking back on four wing-footed years, nothing is as vivid in the minds of Seniors as the metamorphosis of the campus. Buildings have mushroomed over night. Where we once drove golf balls with a full swing we now would have difficulty in practicing our putting.

Co-eds no longer share gymnasium space with the male contingent. They exult in their emancipation in the most modern of physical education buildings. "From mud-puddle to swimming pool" is the story of the natatorium, with its swim teams and splash parties—an important step in campus transition.

What is it that the presence of a men's dorm adds to college life? We don't know, but it's both beneficial and welcome, and we're glad about Kohl Hall. A cozy cottage, newest addition to the campus setting, houses a sorority, other co-eds, and marks the beginning of a plan to locate all sororities on the campus.

This comprehensive mental snapshot of a campus in transition should include, besides new buildings, new professors, new trees, new walks, new ways, and a new spirit.

ADMINISTRATION

Bob Roper stands aside as Gayle Boosembark musters enough courage to enter the sanctum sanctorum. What is it this time, Gayle?

DECISION MAKER

Known to us as "Prexy," and to all others as the President of Bowling Green State University, Dr. Frank J. Prout is the man who makes the decisions. Well backgrounded, President Prout has received the Bachelor of Literature degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and the Doctor of Pedagogy degree from both Ohio University and Ohio Wesleyan University.

Aside from administering complex college affairs, prexy miraculously finds time to take part in a majority of campus functions—not excluding the lowliest nickelodeon dance or the swankiest fraternity formal.

As sophomores we looked wonderingly upon this newcomer, knowing that he was to fill the shoes of a great man. As seniors we can say that he has succeeded.

Dr. F. J. Prout, Mrs. Richard Cumming, secretary.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS

E. E. Coriell, H. J. Johnston, Mrs. Richard Cumming, Dr. F. J. Prout, Mrs. Bessie Dwyer, J. J. Urschel, Dudley A. White.

Appointed by the governor of Ohio, approved by its senate, and serving for five years are these five members who compose the Board of Trustees. The state Director of Education, Mr. E. N. Dietrich, is an ex-officio member.

Ultimately responsible for managing and maintaining the University, the board has authority to provide courses leading to the various degrees, and to elect and appoint additional instructors. Also empowered is this organization, upon recommendation of the faculty, to confer honorary degrees upon distinguished individuals.

They did so last year when Dudley A. White, most recently appointed member, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

The present Board members:

E. E. Coriell, president, Bowling Green, Ohio
J. J. Urschel, vice-president, Toledo, Ohio
Dr. H. J. Johnston, secretary, Tontogany, Ohio
Mrs. Bessie S. Dwyer, treasurer, Montpelier, Ohio
Dudley A. White, Norwalk, Ohio

COORDINATORS

The Alumni Bureau is of inestimable value to both the university and its alumni. It maintains an up-to-date record of personal, academic, and occupational data concerning each of the 3,500 alumni enrolled with the bureau. It is also the hub for the twenty active alumni groups scattered throughout Northwestern Ohio.

Lesser known functions of equal interest are the compiling of alumni lists for different organizations on the campus, helping to plan the itinerary for the Glee Club's annual spring tour, aiding with plans for county alumni dinners, and helping to organize the Alumni Legislative Committee to co-operate with the university and administration in the budget campaign.

Both Dr. Homer B. Williams, who is in charge of the bureau, and his able assistant, Miss Bessie Stallbohm, make available at all times the entire resources of the bureau for all university purposes.

This is the winning combination of Hissong to Overman to Harshman. They are Dr. Clyde Hissong, Dean of the College of Education; Dr. James R. Overman, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts; and Dr. Ralph G. Harshman, Dean of the College of Business Administration.

Dr. Clyde Hissong, Dr. James R. Overman, Dr. Ralph G. Harshman.

ADMINISTRATORS

Seated behind the suspiciously clean desk are the Deans of Men and Women. It's Miss A. Wrey Warner, Dean of Women, on our left, and behind the bouquet, A. B. Conklin, Dean of Men.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

Bowed down 'neath the heft of weighty matters . . .
they meet and lean in times of special stress upon advice sponsorial.

FOR THINGS WRITTEN

Resulting from the adoption of the University Student Association constitution in 1940, the Board of Publications now makes weighty decisions on editorial matters.

Hoped for objectives are such things as selecting more capable editors and managers for campus publications, seeing that all student organizations are given fair representation, watching that student opinion is well reflected, and making sure that student publications support the best interests of the University.

Four faculty and four student members, as provided for in Board by-laws, complete the personnel.

Names: Jesse J. Currier, chairman; Helen Sturgeon, secretary.

Arch B. Conklin, Don Rager, Darl Gatchell, Helen Sturgeon, Jesse J. Currier, Anthony Francis, Orland Ritchie, J. R. Overman.

COUNCIL FOR STUDENTS

Starting in 1935 as a struggling student government group seeking recognition, the Student Council has evolved into what is generally recognized as the most influential student organization on the campus.

Adopted this year, the new Student Association constitution gives the Council more authority. Under this new ruling, student regulation of student problems is assured by the election of councilmen to represent all campus organizations and the student body at large. Its influence extends to such important groups as Social Committee, Board of Publications, Homecoming Committee, Athletic Committee, etc.

Other campus activities over which the Council extends authority are all freshman week goings-on, chapel programs, and the university anniversary program. The organization has complete charge of campus elections, and prints annually the freshman handbook.

The Council cooperates with the administration and acts occasionally as coordinator between non-student groups and the student body. Two former Council projects which have achieved success are improving university publicity and stopping the suitcase parade.

Council brain power has been turned on the problem of developing cheering sections to vitalize athletic contests. Various aspects of the fraternity and sorority situation have been investigated including the question of national affiliation. Other projects are the enlargement of the intramural program and the acquiring of a standard motion picture projector.

Powers that be: Darl Gatchell, president; Roger Gifford, vice-president; Helen Sturgeon, secretary-treasurer.

Faculty advisors: Florence Baird, C. G. Swanson, John Bunn.

FOR THINGS SOCIAL

Long traditioned, the Social Committee meets each Monday with Dean A. Wrey Warner, capable chairman. Scarce heard among noise and thunder of other divers committees in action, this group puts forth prodigious efforts to cope with expanding social programs and new concepts of social life.

Such things as the distribution of money to various organizations to embellish All-Campus social functions, the compiling of a social calendar, and the war on the suitcase parade bogey are tackled by this group. Basic aim of the committee is to help produce a more social-minded student.

Names: Miss A. Wrey Warner, chairman; Peg Curtiss, secretary.

W. E. Steidtmann, Al Sautter, Wrey Warner, Vicki Finnegan, Ernest Nixon, June Smith, Peg Curtiss, Arch B. Conklin, Marguerite Carpenter, Clare Martin.

Made up of the Inter-Sorority and Inter-Fraternity Councils, the Inter-Organization Council has the final say-so on all matters of common concern to the fraternities and sororities.

The magic word "Homecoming" means not much until this organization goes into action, as it sponsors the Homecoming Dance, largest, happiest function of the year.

Individually and apart, the Inter-Sorority Council does such things as regulate sorority pledging activities, mediate inter-sorority disputes, and give various teas. Also definitely mentionable is the Inter-Sorority Formal, official opener of campus formal activities.

Names to remember: Vera Welty, president; June Reed, vice-president; and Lucille Jump, secretary-treasurer.

The other fifty per cent, the Inter-Fraternity Council, does a like job for the fraternities in such matters as pledging and mediating. Best known and probably best remembered is the council's rare feat of bringing a big name band to the campus every year—without losing money!

Names to remember: Quentin Bowers, president; Don Mason, vice-president; Gaylord Groff, secretary; George John, treasurer.

SITTING: Gladys Burling, Vera Welty, June Reed, Lucille Jump, Katherine Bilderback, Walter A. Zaugg.

SECOND ROW: Marie Decker, Mary Cross, Don Mason, Quentin Bowers, Gaylord Groff, Jane Parent, Nova Groll.

A COUNCIL OF COUNCILS

STANDING: Jeanette Zachman, Inga Stenger, Eleanor Rupp, Mary Catherine Stahl, Phyllis Jackson, Rosemary Patterson, Marian Archibald, Marian Andrews, Marie Waltermire, Jean Mersereau, Helen Fashbaugh. SITTING: Helen Sturgeon, Alice Dinsmore, Mary Lucille Rostofer, Ruth Allison.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

Knowingly or not, all women upon registering for the school term become members of the Women's Self-Governing Association. As might be suggested in the title, the association functions in drawing up and enforcing campus co-ed rules.

These rules, sactioned by popular co-ed referendum, pertain chiefly to indubitably important matters such as hours and conduct. Decisions made emanate from the central governing board, composed of all women housechairmen and officers elected by the co-eds.

"Little Sister" projects are sponsored each fall. These are intended to aid unorientated "Frosh" girls in becoming both acquainted and adjusted. Teas and dances given frequently are aimed at doing the same thing.

Names: Mary Lucille Rostofer, president; Ruthanna Fridley, vice-president; Helen Sturgeon, second vice-president; Alice Dinsmore, secretary; Ruth Allison, treasurer; Dean A. Wrey Warner, advisor.

(1) House lights dimmed, the curtain rises; presenting "Margin for Error." (2) Remember those windows . . . from riches to poverty in 7,256 easy steps . . . and you had to stand in line to give it away. (3) Nadine Corson arrives and sets many masculine hearts to racing madly. (4) After registration . . . before tour of campus. (5) Br-r-r, but I didn't want to go swimming. (6) Introducing Cottage No. 1 . . . Five Sister domicile. (7) Still registering. (8) The Frosh turn out for an early fall game. (9) Business Manager Kreischer busies himself at some "red tape." (10) This little piggie goes to the infirmary. (11) a Prodded Frosh promotes proposal.

Ruth Baxter, Dale Good, Rex Moorhead, Marcia Friesner.

Behind the double breasted coat stands Rex Moorhead, Findlay boy who came to school and made good. Intellectually inclined, he has, nevertheless, been both active and popular . . . other things being equal, he plans to teach school. Other things being equal, he will probably be successful.

Dale Good, River Rouge recruit, is the strong silent man of our class. He is also the vice-president. When not playing football or selling Varsity Club products at games, he dips into business administration, with one eye fixed on the future. Dale is the other male in the picture.

It is petite and pretty class secretary, Ruth Baxter, who smiles at us from the left side of the picture. Another potential school teacher she has taken education. When at home, her mail is addressed to Delphos. Sorry, no telephone number.

The brunette who may just have escaped from a film colony is none other than our treasurer, Marcia Friesner, Waterville. When not too busy counting the class gold she too busies herself in preparation for school teaching.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

SECOND ROW: Howard Shine, Mary Jane Strayer, Marjorie Sutter.

Proudly do we present an honest to goodness exchange student from south of the border . . . Montevideo, Uruguay . . . not a newcomer to the college game . . . Julita Ingold is a graduate of the Women's University of Montevideo . . . likes to dance, takes her swing strictly on the sweet side . . . incidentally the girl can really sing.

As we all know him, "Mike" Johnson, has a high regard for the university . . . so high that he takes time off to snap up three hours of Business Administration every week . . . hails from Sidney, Ohio, and is locally known as proprietor of the Parrot and Purity.

Known as the smartest student in seven counties, it is not surprising that Evelyn Kintner is now a graduate assistant in the English department . . . the pride of Clyde, she carries very well her honors and highly heaped professorial praise.

A foreign student who is enrolled under the reciprocal scholarship plan of recent establishment . . . bowed down 'neath the weight of three degrees, Luben Kutukchieff, seeks a fourth at our university before returning to Sofia, Bulgaria, with his wife, Katherine, who is a senior here.

Distinguished during his Bowling Green undergrad days as a fine actor, speaker, and debater, Fostoria's Howard Shine has added to his laurels by introducing the Speaker's Bureau to our campus . . . now a graduate assistant in the Speech department . . . Only as a secret would we tell you that he is the proud papa of a four thousand year old Egyptian mummy.

Possessing her Bachelor and Master's degrees from Ohio State, Mary Jane Strayer, from London, Ohio, is now getting out some work in elementary education . . . has had experience as a governess but her aim is to teach the first grade.

Local girl combining beauty, brains, and personality . . . add to this triumvirate the fact that she plays a harp well enough to be a member of the Toledo Symphony orchestra . . . the result, Marjorie Sutter, is enough to gladden the hearts of students and town folks alike.

STANDING: Don Mason. SITTING: Mildred Wolf, James Place, Charlotte Stump.

Don Mason may be called president without error . . . super-active on the campus as on the hardwood . . . local boy making good . . . pleasing personality, and how that man plays tennis!

Vice-president is James Place . . . smiling student from Fort Wayne . . . active, well known, and well liked.

Our candidate for something or other very swell is Mildred Wolf, secretary, who lives right here in town.

Charlotte Stump, treasurer, has made Athens, Michigan, very proud . . . here we know her as the queen of the physical education department.

Martha Jordan, John Curtis, Jim Showkier, Jean Mersereau.

Jim Showkier, president, was prexy for the Frosh last year. Isn't that enough recommendation for this Clevelandite?

Vice-president Johnny Curtis, from Swanton, sometimes flies in a plane and sometimes plays in the University Band and Orchestra . . . but always he is in business administration.

Pleasing to know is secretary Jean Mersereau, Toledo girl, who does right well by herself on this campus.

Lovely to look at, delightful to know, and, incidentally, the treasurer — Martha Jordan, Bowling Green product and daughter of "Prof" Jordan.

FRESHMEN-CLASS OF 1944

FROSH AT BAY

Registration day brings forth the annual deluge of anxious, excited, half-frightened Frosh. The ordeal of registration is only the prelude to a hectic week of becoming "orientated" to university life . . . and to the sophomores.

On the more pleasant side . . . the Frosh are given parties, mixers, and dances to break the ice and to acquaint themselves with other class members.

In a short while there is generated a feeling of unity . . . the Frosh really become a Freshman class . . . As such it provides the greater part of the campus color, enthusiasm, and general college spirit.

Homecoming festivities hit a new high this year, as the campus became an amalgamation of old and new for a few days. Dignified alumni let down their hair, turned out in astonishing numbers, and in quick time added a warm glow to the general campus atmosphere. Dancers flowed into both gyms and tripped lightly, some fantastically, to various smooth jiving swing bands. High light of the first evening was the crowning of tall, dark, and smiling Helen Sturgeon as Homecoming queen. Attendants, arms full of flowers smiled also, and flash bulbs went off like a string of firecrackers.

(6) The promenade.

All fraternities joined in a general decoration contest and frat house fronts soon resembled miniature side shows. The Y.M.C.A. offered a cup for the best job and the Five Brothers mighty decorative efforts did the trick, landing them the award.

Those who came to see the Falcon gridders win a football game were greatly pleased as the Ypsilanti Hurons took a 15-0 plastering.

Something new was injected into the program as Boots and Saddle Club gave the campus its first horse show, Virginia Krout, freshman, walking off with the all-events cup.

EVERY INCH A QUEEN

THE CAMPUS CHOICE

On the morning of May 22, 1941, the culmination of months of careful planning by important people begins to unfold. It is May Day. First activity is in shape of an Honors assembly at which both the outstanding seniors and outstanding members of various organizations are recognized and presented with awards. The Summa, Magna, and Cum Laudes are presented by the president to those select few graduating seniors who have achieved highest academic marks. Next, the assembly plaque is awarded to the group which put on the finest assembly program during the year. Seniors, meanwhile present an imposing group in their caps and gowns.

After adjournment, seniors present the class tree and Dr. F. J. Prout accepts in the name of the university.

In the afternoon, May Day exercises begin and Eloise Dyer, Queen-elect is crowned by Janet Crum, senior attendant. Class attendants Ruth Eskilsen, Virginia Patterson, and Constance Smith put natural beauty into the picture as they surround the queen.

Now the Maypole dance is executed, and other traditional exercises follow.

In the evening the University Players, Smith-directed, present the Shakespearean comedy, "Twelfth Night." It is the initial performance and not a seat in the auditorium is unfilled.

Friday finds the students crowding the recreation hall, receiving their 1941 KEYS, while dancing to smooth music and mingling with the Outstanding Personalities who have been presented to the campus with the advent of the publication.

QUEEN OF THE MAY

At six p.m. something new is introduced to the campus. It is the first Gridiron Dinner, at which campus administration and academic big-wigs are gently roasted in true

"gridiron dinner" style. Coinciding with this event is the Mothers and Daughters annual luncheon.

In the evening the May Day festivities receive the grand send off in form of the traditional University Anniversary Prom.

Few campus functions hold so much meaning or are given such prominence as the annual Junior-Senior Prom. As suggested by the name, the event is strictly a "class" affair at which even intrepid prom-goers of many seasons' experience feel the thrill of its traditional importance.

Most campus notables, ranking professors, and administrative big-wigs are on hand, tuxedoed and resplendently white-fronted. They are usually accompanied by long-gowned, graciously speaking spouses. Class presidents and other lesser officers are likewise much in evidence. The reception line misses no one.

A highly paid name band provides the lyrical touch and couples sedately move around the hall. Jitterbugging is definitely out, only one couple dissents. Intermission comes around too quickly; no one has noticed how the time has flown. At least half the crowd scatters to cars parked near by. The remainder stay, chat with the faculty, look up old friends, and sip very good punch from very small glasses.

Orchestra music again—dancing continues and the crowd fills the floor. Couples straggle back and the second half gets under way. Smoothly and effortlessly the formal moves along under its own inertia, until the theme song announces the end. By this time the reception line has dwindled to a few younger professors who seem to enjoy dancing more than the traditional eight hours.

Finally coats are rescued from the check room and the thoroughly "formalized" students hie off to nearby night clubs and all night lunch wagons. Another successful Junior-Senior Prom becomes history!

ROGER GIFFORD
General Chairman

Scarce heard amid the surface clamor of high pressure publicity are all the moans and groans of the committees responsible for this function. These are the ones who must bite finger nails as they listen to student comment, correspond with booking agencies, dig out publicity and hope for the best. Unsung heroes all, the committee heads and members work hard, are grumblingly efficient, and reap scant harvest for their hefty contribution.

INTER-FRATE

Once each year a time comes 'round when the four fraternities on the campus pitch their efforts into one co-operative heap and try to put on a really big-time dance for the benefit of the campus as a whole.

This affair is known as the Inter-Fraternity Dance and it calls for a big-name band, two dollar ducats and many of them. Also cooperating with the fraternities is the Social Committee, which fact has much to do with what success the program enjoys.

From the Inter-Fraternity council a committee is formed to do the dirty work and to receive all comment, good, bad, or otherwise. This year, Quentin Bowers headed the committee and Don Mason was his right hand man in securing Bob Strong and the music with the "Strong Appeal."

Perhaps it was the strength of his name alone that did the trick. Anyhow, after the stubs were counted it was found that nearly two hundred and fifty couples had attended to see, listen, and dance. Translated into dollars and cents, this meant that financially, the dance was a success. As for its social triumph—that is already a matter of record.

STRONG AND HIS BOYS SWING SOME SOLID STUFF

UNITY DANCE

In addition to offering danceable swing tunes, the young band leader and his players cooked up several small floor shows, sang feature numbers in unique fashion and brought down the house by swinging and singing the University fight song.

Committeemen in charge of the "big band" affair, under Bowers' leadership, were:

Tickets — Willard Chapoton, Five Brother, and Kenneth Harger, Delhi.

Arrangements — George John, Commoner, and Gaylord Groff, Beta Gamma Upsilon.

Publicity — Dick Dunipace, Commoner, and Clarence Goterba, Beta Gamma Upsilon.

Orchestra — Don Mason, Delhi.

BOB STRONG AND PAL, QUENTIN BOWERS

(1) Fun at the faculty party. Yes, that is the faculty. (2) Surveying the set-up . . . one of our latest additional courses. (3) Intermission at the name-band dance . . . reposeing puppies. (4) The pause that replenishes the pause that refreshes. (5) McCloud and family take time out between classes, on a windy day, for a wee bit of family recreation. (6) Election day . . . cast your ballot for the Queen of the May. (7) Rolling the track, Woody? (8) Co-eds co-op shopping. (9) Proving the success of High School Journalism Day . . . gastronomically and otherwise.

YOU DON'T NEED A PERSUADER, POP!

USED FOR READING MATERIAL TOO.

LUCKY SALOMEY.

EVEN THE MUSICIANS CAME YOKEL.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THOSE CRAZY HOGS?

PRIZE COPPERS.

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

Dogpatch society comes to life as the campus becomes Sadie Hawkins conscious! A half week's dating in reverse is culminated in the big dance Saturday night. Decorations in the men's gym reflect a rustic motif; include bales of straw as benches and crock jugs for elbow bending purposes. At least 200 couples arrive in costumes. "Daisy Mae" shoulder styles prevail for the co-eds but men play no favorites as Li'l Abners, Black Rufes, and Hairless Joes abound. Bandmen dress hill-billy yet swing out in danceable rhythms. Highlights of the evening are the costume judging, crowning of Li'l Abner (Snowden) and Daisy Mae (Hemsoth), and a hectic melée of howling, shouting, and squealing termed a Hog Calling Contest. Delhis, as sponsors, go home happy.

ORGANIZATIONS

More than just going to classes is a university
. . . Complex society has become a menage of organizations . . . Our campus enjoys its share.

ALONG FRATERNITY ROW

- (1) A Commoners pledge assumes that well known fraternity angle.
- (2) Some Five Brothers joining in on an original vocal rendition.
- (3) Problem: Find the "shark" among this group of Delhis in a friendly little game.
- (4) Hell night for those lucky Beta Gamma Upsilon pledges . . . Note size of paddles.

FRATERNITIES

Homogeneous groups of college masculinity . . . Rings and pins to prove they're brothers . . . Large ideas . . . Bull sessions . . . Stag parties.

DELHI IN 1940-1941

Had a successful rushing season and celebrated it by bearing down harder than ever on the pledges . . . Held its annual Homecoming dinner dance which gave alumni something to rave about . . . Entered teams in most of the intramural contests . . . Had a president who captained the track team . . . Lost several of its brothers to Uncle Sam's air force . . . Built a recreation room in the basement, now the scene of frequent stags . . . Held a Spring Formal dinner dance off the campus . . . Kept strong a new tradition known as Sadie Hawkins Day . . . The decorations for the dance were typically rustic, the costumes realistic, and the Daisy Maes tempting.

FIVE BROTHERS

FIVE BROTHERS IN 1940-1941

Current season's activity was highlighted by the annual Homecoming party, over one hundred alumni brothers returning for the festivities . . . Decorating committee came through one hundred per cent, and the fraternity copped the Y. M. C. A. plaque for best homecoming decorations . . . Annual Christmas party prepared members to enjoy their holiday vacation . . . Tip-Off dance found Five Brothers receiving a healthy share of athletic awards . . . Pledges decided entering the fraternity as tough as ever . . . Late season's big events were the Spring Formal and the annual picnic . . . More payments were made on the house . . . Uncle Sam reduced the membership slightly.

COMMONERS

COMMONERS IN 1940-1941

Became incorporated in January of 1940 after fourteen years' activity . . . Found nearly all its members active in campus organizations, heading both publications once again . . . had seventy-six brothers and alumni at the annual Homecoming dinner, as a part of a complete homecoming week, including a buffet luncheon for wives and Commoner girl friends, topped with an informal dance at Kohl Hall . . . Put on an assembly program that most students considered tops . . . Filled the Glee Club with tune conscious brothers . . . Lost a few members to Uncle Sam's service . . . Held a Spring Formal in the Reception Hall, with music by Howdy Gorman . . . Wound up the calendar year with a picnic off campus.

BETA GAMMA UPSILON

BETA GAMMA UPSILON IN 1940-1941

Met a long felt need for more fraternities by establishing itself in April, 1940 . . . Is incorporated and has a charter to prove it . . . Did something different by sponsoring a Corn Roast and Lumber-Jack Swing . . . Is housed directly opposite the courthouse . . . Has authority to "instruct brothers in its Wisdom, teach them of its Integrity, and inspire them with its Loyalty" . . . Was planned secretly several months before coming out into public . . . Had what many said was best formal of year . . . Uncle Sam didn't affect the membership very much . . . Hopes in the end to give members a more complete realization of fraternalized life.

SKOL

SKOLS IN 1940-1941

Started off college life by moving into a newly built, modernly styled house . . . Got an early start socially with their open-house tea and Skol Sport Dance, traditional sorority function . . . Second semester program was likewise opened by the traditional Sweater Swing, the student body turning out in sweaters, comfortably at ease in everyday garb . . . Congratulations to the two members of the royal court . . . April 20 marked the high point of the sorority's social activities in the shape of the Spring Formal held in the Reception Hall . . . Aside from things strictly social, the group this year made off with the Esther Russell Scholarship Cup for having the highest point average of the sororities the first semester.

FIVE SISTERS

FIVE SISTERS IN 1940-1941

Culminated eighteen years of organized bliss by enjoying a blessed event — occupation of a new red brick sorcrity house, replete with private chapter room, forty-girl dining-room, and a spacious paneled lounge . . . Formal and informal rush parties held here netted twenty-two pledges the second semester . . . Social whirl found the Fives in the thick of things with their annual Homecoming Brunch, Mother's Day Tea, spring picnic, and Sweetheart Swing, traditional all-campus dance to which all the lads and lassies brought their favorite valentines . . . House was also the scene of many teas, house dances, and slumber(less) parties . . . Climax was their anxiously awaited Five Sister Homecoming in April . . . Orchids to the three Bennetts of "P & P," to members of the royal court, to—Ink Spot.

SEVEN SISTERS

SEVEN SISTERS IN 1940-1941

Consistent with their past history, again proved their ability scholastically as well as socially. To wit: the sorority was awarded the Esther Russell Scholarship Cup for maintaining the highest point average the second semester of 1940 . . . Their own Helen Sturgeon copped the coveted position of Homecoming Queen . . . Parties sponsored during the school term included the fall tea for freshmen, customary Christmas tea, Spring Formal and picnic and the Graduates' Farewell dance, a gracious gesture on the part of the Sevens honoring all seniors on the campus . . . Only blot of an otherwise good year—loss of sponsor Miss Florence Litchfield by way of the altar.

WILLIAMS HALL

Old dormitories may always be replaced by newer ones, but forever held with deference are the old ones of long standing. Abounding with such reveries for campus traditions is Williams Hall, named in honor of the first president of Bowling Green State University, Dr. H. B. Williams.

Continuous modern improvements have kept this dormitory as up to date as the most recent campus additions. Latest of improvements include the addition of two penthouses on the third floor and a recreation room in the basement, available to everyone at all times.

The dormitory is governed by the housemother, Mrs. Josephine James, the house chairman, Minnie Thompson, and the house board, consisting of five or six of the dormitory girls. This group organizes and guides dormitory affairs and helps settle questions that arise.

Each year Williams Hall sponsors various social activities. Early this spring the Reception Hall was transformed into a jungle setting for their annual Spring Formal, the "Tom-tom Trot." "Trottin'" was done to the smooth rhythms of Jack Elton's orchestra. In the fall the dorm contributes its share to campus entertainment by sponsoring an all-campus dance. Also popular among those many Willamette admirers is the Christmas dinner and formal dance that follows.

SHATZEL HALL

Main 7921 . . . "Hello, yes, this is Shatzel Hall. Just a moment and I'll call her." Shatzel Hall, second newest girls' dormitory on the campus, houses one hundred and thirteen girls. Here, also, is found the women's infirmary.

Mrs. Thelma Cook is housemother at Shatzel. She accepted the position in January when Mrs. Ruth McWilliams, former housemother, resigned to fill a government position.

Margaret Bender heads the house board with Jane Myers acting as vice-president. This organization is the ruling factor in the dorm, planning parties, administering dormitory rules, and solving the problems found in dormitory life.

"Cinderella's Ball," the annual dormitory formal dance, was the highlight of the year. It was held on March 22 in the Reception Hall and music was provided by Dick Hanselman and his orchestra. Decorations were in accord with the fairyland theme of the ball.

During the Christmas season the girls of the dorm went caroling and gave a formal dinner and dance. They gave a dinner in honor of their graduates in the spring.

KOHL HALL

Launching into its second year on the campus, Kohl Hall, dormitory for men, found itself the possessor of two new house managers, a large proctorial staff and a newly repainted interior.

The house managers, newly appointed chemistry professors, served as papas for the 175 men in the dorm. Mr. Reid carried on through the remainder of the year when Mr. Zuhr tripped lightly to the altar at the end of the first semester.

The house board, governing body of the dorm, is composed of house officers and one representative from each corridor.

Ever active in extra-curricular activities, the dorm had campus representatives in every phase of college life and held a colorful spring formal, several informal dances, and a successful Christmas dinner.

Within Kohl Hall, numerous residents ran many varied enterprises, offering everything from bed-making to sandwich shops, and from dry cleaning representatives to tux rental bureaus. The wail of many musical instruments from within the dormitory also notified the neighbors that the boys were "in the groove" during one of the many jam sessions held in the lower lounge. A successful minstrel show produced by resident comedians, was presented in several nearby communities.

EQUESTRIENNES

1941 marked the second anniversary of the Boots and Saddle Club. The organization is open to anyone who has taken two semesters of riding with the aim to further the interests of students in equitation (horsemanship to you).

Activities for this year included participation in several horse shows. In the first show held at the Douglas Meadows Riding Academy, Marie Decker carried away, in addition to three blue ribbons, top honors and the championship class gold cup.

The last show of the fall season was held on our campus at Homecoming. The star performer of the evening was Virginia Krout who won the championship class, the five-gaited performance class, and several other awards.

Other blue ribbon winners for the year included Judith Wild, Mary Francis Church, Margaret Smith, and Roselyn Schwyn.

FLEDGLINGS

Congressional action in 1939 made possible training in flying for ten thousand college students. Technically speaking, the program for achieving this aim is under the authority of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, better known as the C. A. A.

From its beginning, last year, Professor J. K. Raney, Major in the Air Reserve, has directed the local C. A. A. program, assisted by Mike Murphy, the world's foremost precision pilot, and Dr. Samuel Mayfield, instructor in meteorology. Findlay airport is the scene of actual flying practice.

Aces: C. A. A. graduates from the university now in the Air Corps are: Army Air Corps—Bill Berry, Bud Francis, Jim Hunter, Jim Huntington, Rufus Saylor, and Alba Klopfenstein; Naval Air Service—Charles Silver and Dave Silver. Dwight Van Atta, former student-instructor in the local C. A. A. is now in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

PARLIAMENTARIANS

Reputed to be as old as the University, Emerson Literary Society has consistently held its own as a well-membered campus organization. Organized primarily to develop student proficiency in parliamentary procedure, the society has over a period of years enlarged its scope of activities to give a much varied year-round program.

The purposes of the organization today are to achieve in the members a feeling of ease and balance in presenting material to a public, to learn to speak extemporaneously, and to learn to preside over public bodies with confidence and ease.

The first few meetings were given over to practicing parliamentary procedure. After these meetings, various members took part in special programs. These consisted of several debates on such topics as: "Freshman Hazing," "Round Dancing Versus Square Dancing," and "The Roosevelt-Willkie Campaign."

FOURTH ROW: Harold Long, Barbara Zahrend, Gaylord Groff, Helen Behrens, Robert Morgan, Doris Mawer, Dwight Humphreys, Elizabeth Hornyak, Don Coursen.

March 17 marked the publishing of the annual Emerson Oral Newspaper. Unexpected talent was discovered by the group when the newspaper articles were read.

A little insight was gained into some of the departments of the federal government through a "Mock Trial" and a "Session of the House of Representatives."

The crowning event of the semester was the taffy pull held in true old-fashioned style, each member making his own brand of confection.

MASTER MOVERS

Quoted as being an organization offering "intellectual diversion from the everyday routine of scholastic endeavor," the Chess Club has met every Friday for the past two years to do just that thing.

At these meetings members match wits with each other over the chess boards. Discussions of historical openings and moves are attempts to improve the game of the respective members.

As a side line, the club has opened correspondence with interested parties and is carrying on several games by mail with other universities and several sections of our National Defense services.

ECCLESIASTS

The Bowling Green chapter of the Newman Club, national Catholic federation, was established on the campus October, 1939, through the efforts of Father James A. Horrigan, local priest.

The club's aims are to promote interest in church affairs and to develop culture, and social activity among its members. Membership is open to any student of Bowling Green State University of Catholic faith.

On the first and third Thursday of each month, the club holds its meetings. First monthly meetings are devoted to discussion of such topics as Lent, books, and famous Catholic men of science and arts. During the past year two question bees were held on the commandments and sacraments. The second meeting of the month is usually held in the Reception Hall where the members enjoy games, refreshments, and swinging and swaying to the nickelodian. Several members attended the Silver Jubilee Conference held in New York City during the Christmas holidays.

Outstanding speaker of the year was Dr. Vogel, professor of philosophy at Mary Manse College of Toledo, who held an open discussion in November. The annual directors meeting was held May 1, at which time officers for the coming year were elected. The year was officially ended by the annual spring picnic held May 15.

Of Merit: Catherine Cosentino, president; Richard Camp, vice-president; Mary Honor Crowley, secretary-treasurer; Stanley Zelaski, lecturer; Mr. D. J. Crowley, advisor; Father James Horrigan, chaplain.

MEN OF GOOD WILL

Known by everyone the world over is the Young Men's Christian Association. In every college and university these four letters, Y.M.C.A., are in evidence, denoting the quest for high ideals of Christian living. Our local group, largest male organization on the campus, is a member of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A. and the World Student Christian Federation.

Membership in the Y.M.C.A. is open to any male student or faculty member who is in sympathy with its purpose and declares his willingness to make the objectives of organization his personal program.

The governing body is the cabinet, composed of the officers and chairmen of the various commissions. Each year the "Y" sends delegates to a mid-west conclave held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

Due to the efforts of Ken Harger, chairman of the membership campaign, its members number two hundred and fifty, larger than the membership in any similar period in the history of the university.

Of Extra Merit: Carl Bourne, president; Don Lehman, vice-president; George Dickey, treasurer; Harold Edgar, conference chairman; Prof. Leon Fauley, Prof. W. C. Jordan, and Dr. Gilbert Cooke, advisors.

CABINET

SITTING: Edward Horvath, George Dickey, Don Lehman, Carl Bourne, Darwin Mayfield, Quentin Bowers. STANDING: Don Cunningham, Dutch Ross, Meredith Cramer, Roger Wheeler, James Place, Mike Marko, Scott Dysinger, Harold Edgar, Kenneth Harger, Carl LaRue, James Ludwick, William Brillhart.

STANDING: Harriet Wood, Mary Honor Crowley, Martha Jordan, Doris Peat, Helen Fashbaugh.

WOMEN OF GOOD WILL

With a membership totaling over one hundred girls, the Young Women's Christian Association is one of the largest women's organizations on the campus. During freshman week the group sponsored a campfire program to welcome freshman girls to the campus. A late fall activity was the International Bazaar. Some of the traditional activities in which the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. co-operated, were the Freshman mixer in the fall, the annual Silver Tea at Christmas and the Easter sunrise services. These two groups collaborated in bringing to the campus a speaker on family relations, a labor expert, and a famous pianist. Probably the outstanding activity of the year was the sponsoring of a World Student Service Fund Drive to help students in foreign lands who are suffering because of the war.

Much of the Y.W.C.A. work was done through the cabinet made up of committee chairmen. These girls were aided in all their undertakings by an advisory board composed of Mrs. W. C. Jordan, Mrs. C. G. Swanson, Mrs. F. J. Prout, Mrs. J. M. Cadwallader, Mrs. Elden T. Smith, Miss Alma Leedom, and Dean A. Wrey Warner, internationally known "Y" booster.

Of Extra Merit: Roberta Hanline, president; Margaret Wilson, vice-president; Margaret Bender, secretary; Alice Dinsmore, treasurer.

If you are an athletic young man with a taste for varsity awards, and have earned at least one as a member, or senior manager, of any varsity sport you are eligible for membership in the Varsity Club.

Since 1935, when coach Harry Ockerman reorganized the club, it has enjoyed six active years of work among students and athletes. It has been responsible for promotion of all-campus boxing and wrestling tournaments and has had charge of all athletic activities. Receipts from these activities have been used to buy boxing and wrestling equipment, to introduce badminton to the campus, and to supply all the motion picture equipment used by the health and physical education departments.

The aims of this organization are the promotion of fellowship and good sportsmanship among athletes and students, creation of better campus interest in athletic attainments, the fostering of athletic events held by the university and the promotion of the welfare of athletics on the campus.

By way of social activities, the club sponsors the annual Kick-Off dance with the members of the football team as the special guests. At this dance next season's captain is presented. This year retiring captain, Steve Brudzinski, presented captain-elect Eddie Wellner to the student body. Each spring a recognition banquet, the last meeting of the year, is held and blankets are presented to the graduating seniors who have filled requirements according to the rules of the organization.

WESLEY WOMEN

Kappa Phi, a religious club for women, has as its primary purpose the development of the religious side of college life along with that which is academic and social. Membership is open to all Methodist, or Methodist preference, women on the campus. The local chapter, Alpha Gamma, is affiliated with the national organization which has twenty-five chapters on different campuses throughout the United States.

Meetings of the local group are held twice a month at the home of the advisor and matron, Mrs. Wayne Huffman, local director of the Wesley Foundation of the Methodist church.

Activities for the year included a Rose Tea for prospective members, initiation ceremonies, contribution of Christmas gifts to the Flower Esther Home in Toledo, and a Mother's Day luncheon. In addition the group plans to send two of its cabinet members to the national Kappa Phi convention held at Seattle this summer.

MEN OF MIXTURES

"With mortars and pestles and tortuous vessels, the chemist prepareth his mixtures . . ."

In the fall of 1939, a few students majoring in chemistry organized the Chemical Journal Club. Since then it has grown into an active group of thirty students especially interested in chemistry. The purpose of the organization is to promote interest in chemistry and to stimulate reading of the various chemical journals in the library as well as to provide social meetings for students in the department.

The general meetings, open to all interested persons, attract a large number of non-members and feature lecture demonstrations by men from nearby industrial plants. Also club-sponsored are trips to applied chemical industrial plants. On Honors Day an award is presented to the outstanding freshman chemistry student as selected by competitive examination. Plans are being made to affiliate the club with the American Chemical Society, the largest professional organization in the world.

HOME BUILDERS

In 1921 there was counted on the campus another professional organization known as the Home Economics Club. Six years later it became a member of the national Home Economics organization. Today it functions as the professional organization for all students taking courses in Home Economics.

The purposes of the club are to provide each member with a broader vision of the home economics field, to promote cooperation among the members, and to provide practical training in home-making.

At each monthly meeting a guest speaker holds a forum in some field which is of interest to home economics women.

This year the program consisted of the following speakers: Miss Purdy spoke about "Distributive Education in Relation to Home Economics," Mr. Cromwell spoke of the "Toledo Business Bureau, Its Organization and Purpose," Mrs. Ted Byron spoke for "Home Laundry and Dry Cleaning," about processes used in laundering various types of fabrics; a representative from the Lenox China Co. gave an illustrated lecture on "Methods in Making Fine China," and Miss Grace Durrin gave a book review on "Saphira and the Slave Girl," by Willa Cather.

Chief Cooks: Arlyne Muhlhan, president; Rosemary Patterson, vice-president; Beth Reeder, secretary; Nova Groll, treasurer; Miss Laura E. Heston and Miss Helen W. Henderson, advisors.

BUILDERS

Since its organization in 1936, the Industrial Arts Club, has been expanding until it now has more than doubled its original membership. Any major or minor in the industrial arts department may become a member of this club which holds its meetings on the third Wednesday of each month.

Its objectives are to aid students in learning more about fields not covered by university instruction, to discuss problems that may arise in the industrial arts, and to promote the department on the campus.

Photography, architecture, metal working, silk-screen reproduction, and visual education are a few of the subjects discussed in meetings.

During the year the organization took several trips to various industrial concerns to observe first-hand the application of industrial arts.

TEACHERS ALL

Founded in 1935 by a group of students and critics, the Intermediate Club proposes to answer the need for an organized group to promote the social and professional interests of embryo grade school teachers. Membership is restricted to any one enrolled in the elementary-intermediate department of the College of Education.

This organization builds a theme for the year which is presented at the monthly meetings, running cumulatively. The theme for this year was "Institutions that affect the child in modern way of life." Outstanding among the speakers were: Mrs. W. C. Hoppes who spoke on "The Movies," Mrs. Arthur Seibens who spoke on "The Church," Mrs. S. H. Lowrie who spoke on "Youth Organizations," and Mrs. Grimes who spoke on "The Library." The annual Homecoming Breakfast for alumnae was given in conjunction with the Kindergarten-Primary Club.

The official meeting season was closed with the annual formal spring banquet given May 15, at which time the coming year's officers were installed. Following the book theme, Mrs. Grimes gave a dissertation on "Books as Recreation for the Teacher."

Ranking Pedagogues: Flora Shaw, president; Mancy Lehman, vice-president; Marcella Hansen, secretary; Mildred Sandrock, treasurer; Wanda Lane, reporter; Miss Elsie Lorenz and Miss Marvalene Day, advisors.

TOT TEACHERS

Kindergarten-Primary Club of Bowling Green State University holds national and state membership in the Association for Childhood Education. The club was organized in 1929 for the purpose of promoting social and professional growth among kindergarten-primary students on the campus.

To become a member of the club a girl must be enrolled in the kindergarten-primary course. Meetings of a professional and social nature are held the second Wednesday of each month.

The program theme for the year was "The Teacher and Her Relationship to Community Agencies." This program emphasis was supported at the various meetings held throughout the year by outside speakers, including Mrs. Tom Woodin, city health nurse; Mr. William Loeffler, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; and Prof. Conwell J. Poling.

Other activities of note for the year included a joint "get together party" with the Intermediate Teachers club and a formal spring banquet.

Of Note: Joan Brown, president; Gladys Mylander, vice-president; Marcia Friesner, secretary-treasurer; Isabelle Harbauer, reporter; Jane Parent, publications representative; Miss Neva West and Miss Alice Roth, advisors.

QUILL ARTISTS

In 1924 commercial education majors and minors established Quill Type as their professional organization with the purpose to promote the interest of the members in their chosen profession by training them in public speaking and organization leadership.

Membership is based upon attendance in the commercial education department for a period of twelve weeks and a vote of the majority.

Semi-monthly meetings consist of parliamentary procedure practice, playlets, reports and outside speakers. Each member is required to be on the program at least once a year.

The "quill" is derived from the use of the quill pen in shorthand and the "type" from the use of the typewriter.

Social activities for the year include a closed dance, Homecoming luncheon, and a spring picnic.

Chief Quillers: Ruth Allison, president; Glenn Van Wormer, vice-president; Bernice Brauneck, secretary; Meredith Cramer, treasurer; Arline Neidhart, program chairman; Helen Sturgeon, publicity chairman; Dr. E. G. Knepper, Miss N. A. Ogle, Mr. P. E. Muse, Miss Margaret Purdy, and Mrs. Marguerite Carpenter, advisors.

FALCONETTES

"A team for every girl and a girl on every team" states the slogan of the Women's Athletic Association. This organization attempts to bring enjoyment of athletic competition within the reach of every campus co-ed.

Letters and honors are awarded, not on the basis of games won, but for taking part, being skillful, showing loyalty to the team, being sportsmanlike and enjoying the game.

To be on a team one need not be a member of the W. A. A. but membership is required in order to be awarded points, emblems and college letter sweaters. The organization has sponsored several campus activities, including a social dancing class, open house at Homecoming, square dances, "Dancers En Route" and Play Day for high school girls.

Monthly social meetings are concluded at the year's end by the annual Wakan Campfire Service, a farewell to the graduates in the spring.

Best of Brood: Naomi Powell, president; Wilma Cole, vice-president; Kathryn Rhodes, treasurer; Virginia Corson, secretary; Miss Carolyn Shaw, Miss Emilie Hartman, and Mrs. Jean Hendrickson, advisors.

THESPIANS

Once a month a group of stage-conscious students meets at the Parrot for a luncheon. This has been going on since 1938, when the Masque and Mantle was refounded by the speech department.

Essentially, this organization is an honorary fraternity whose aims have been to promote interest in dramatic art as an extra-curricular activity, and as an honor to those who have been active in dramatic production. To be eligible to the group, students must have done both acting and technical work. Seventy-five hours time spent in either line is the minimum requirement.

Masque and Mantle sponsors the Workshop Players, freshman dramatics group. Members of the senior organization serve as directors for the frosh.

UNDERSTUDIES

Novice Garbos and Gables, formerly lacking the qualifications for Masque and Mantle, lingered in obscurity until they were discovered. Now, through the Workshop Players, they have a chance to exercise their talents, though still wearing freshman caps.

The organization got under way this year through the sponsorship of Masque and Mantle. After tryouts, freshmen and new students were admitted to the group which totaled sixty-five members in the first year.

The purpose of the organization is to introduce new students to the dramatic program of the university and to give them experience for further work in dramatics.

The program of the Players has included the presentation of several one act plays. A professional play, "Alice in Electric Wonderland," was produced for a utilities company and performances were given in Indiana and Ohio. "The Waning Moon" was produced for the Teachers Convention in Toledo last fall. Still another play was given before the Bowling Green chapter of D. A. R.

Next year Workshop Players will be eligible for the senior organization—the junior group serving as a stepping stone.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS PRESENT . . . .

MARGIN FOR ERROR

Presented November 1 and 2 under the direction of Mr. Elden T. Smith, "Margin for Error," timely Clare Booth anti-Nazi play, received enthusiastic reception by capacity audiences. It represented the year's first efforts of the University Players. Outstanding performances were turned in by Jesse Mittleman as the policeman who put democracy into action, and Lawrence Kuhl as the strutting, presumptuous American fuehrer.

OUTWARD BOUND

Supernatural, imaginative fantasy of souls at sea, "Outward Bound" followed "Margin for Error" in the offerings of the University Players. A well chosen cast, again Smith directed, gave moving performances on the nights of January 15, 16, 17. Outstanding feature of the play was the general high quality of acting on the part of all the leads.

Names: Lawrence Kuhl as Reverend Duke; Michael D'Asaro and Eulalah Moellman as "half-way" lovers, Henry and Ann; and Bob Sealock as Tom Prior, inveterate drunk.

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

Third University Players production dipped into the social pattern of a century ago to come up with a skillful presentation of Helen Jerome's adaptation of "Pride and Prejudice." Success in this dramatization of Jane Austin's classic depended upon rapid fire, witty dialogue. In this respect the cast, again Smith-picked, scored heavily, keeping the capacity audiences in chuckles throughout the play.

Names to Remember: June Smith as Mrs. Bennett; Kermit Echols as Mr. Bennett; Richard Price as D'Arcy; Virginia Patterson as Elizabeth Bennett.

TWELFTH NIGHT

(Produced in May).

(1) Lois Mayfield. (2) Neuman Mahla. (3) Jack Doane. (4) Paul Ladd. (5) Waldo Egbert. (6) Ernest Maddock. (7) Eulalah Moellman. (8) Grace Gessner. (9) Joe Nordmann.

CREAM OF THE CROP

These students were selected by a student-faculty committee as having made outstanding contributions to dramatic art on Bowling Green State University Campus.

Lois Mayfield . . . for her technical work and performance in "Pride and Prejudice."

Neuman Mahla . . . because of excellence in designing the stage scenery and sets for four plays, as well as his work as technical director in "Margin for Error" and "Pride and Prejudice."

Jack Doane . . . for his portrayal of Hortensio in "The Taming of the Shrew" and capable work in other productions.

Paul Ladd . . . for his technical work and properties management of "Outward Bound" and other productions.

Waldo Egbert . . . for his technical directing of "Outward Bound," his various roles, and his work as head of the stage-craft shop.

Ernest Maddock . . . for his work as business manager for the third consecutive year for all productions, his publicity and technical work.

Eulalah Moellman . . . as Anne in "Outward Bound" and her work and participation in other presentations.

Grace Gessner . . . for her role as the Widow in the "Taming of the Shrew" and her acting and assistance in other productions.

Joe Nordmann . . . for his portrayal of Scrubby in "Outward Bound" and his cooperation in other plays.

Clarence Homan, John Bronson, Vincent Immel, Lawrence Kuhl,
Marvin Pearce

WORDSMITHS

Of the debate squad's twenty-five members, those pictured here proved themselves to be outstanding. All of these wordsmiths have compiled records top-heavy in the number of wins over losses. The 1940-41 debate season, under Coach Palmer's direction, has been one of recurrent successes.

The team of Kuhl and Bronson tied for third in the Great Lakes Pi Kappa Delta tournament in East Lansing, Michigan. At this tourney Kuhl copped first honors in the extemporaneous speaking division.

"Mike" D'Asaro, oratorically voiced sophomore, made off with first in the radio announcing contest. All in all the university got a good share of the honors awarded at this district tournament.

In the Class B section of the Pi Kappa Delta tourney, the Bowling Green team of Marvin Pearce and Clarence Homan was the only team in its division to finish with no defeats.

PERSUADERS

"The art of persuasion, beautiful and just," is the motto of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity. Bowling Green's local chapter, Ohio Eta, was organized eleven years ago on the campus with the help of its advisor, Prof. J. W. Carmichael.

A gold key set with jewels is presented as a membership token to students who are active in debate and who participate in at least ten debates each year.

Orators and extemporaneous speakers may earn this key through active participation in contests for two years, and by ranking in the upper half of the contestants on at least one occasion.

Highlights of the year are the National Student Congress, and Regional and National Tournaments in which Bowling Green public speaking and debate students compete; a tri-chapter banquet, composed of units from Bowling Green, Toledo University, and Heidelberg College.

Invincibles: John Bronson, president; Vincent Immel, vice president; Roberta Hanline, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Upton Palmer, advisor.

RELATORS

No claims for originality in organizing the Speech Bureau are made by the university speech department. It has been done before, but this year marked the beginning of a student speakers' bureau on this campus.

In this case it was felt that the many students of the university who are well qualified to speak on various subjects might be of service to community organizations of Northwestern Ohio. With this in mind Professor Upton Palmer of the department and Howard Shine, graduate assistant, gathered into a group some three score distinguished students who are prepared to give, on short notice, talks to the people of surrounding communities.

Panel discussion groups, plays, debates, and a marionette show are offered in addition to the individual speakers.

REVIEWS

Limiting its membership to a group of six, three men and three women, Areopagus is a select group meeting every two weeks at the home of Dr. Rea McCain for dinner and discussion of books and plays.

The informal coffee house discussion groups of Renaissance London inspired the name and the same spirit of informality and spontaneity is carried on in the organization on our campus.

Meetings, for the most part, are devoted to the reading and analysis of contemporary drama. The Areopagus library of contemporary plays is one of the finest at Bowling Green State University. The group usually finds ways and means of traveling to Toledo to witness several legitimate stage productions during the course of the year.

The requirements are not rigid but new members are taken in only upon graduation of active members. Heretofore upper classmen have had preference but this year for the first time a freshman was taken into the group.

Best Reviewers: Anthony A. Frances, president; Marjorie Sutter, vice-president; Harriet McKnight, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Rea McCain, advisor.

MESSIEURS ET MESDEMOISELLES

Pi Xi chapter of Beta Pi Theta, national honorary French fraternity, was organized at Bowling Green in 1936. French majors and minors are eligible for membership upon writing an essay in French, reciting a French poem and passing a general examination on French civilizations.

To advance the progress of cultural and literary French among university students is the purpose of the organization.

Semi-monthly meetings conducted in French, parties for all French students on the campus and a spring luncheon for alumni are the club's social activities. The national organization publishes a journal, Les Nouvelles de Beta Pi Theta, three times a year, which is composed of contributions from all local chapters.

Names to Note: Agnes Drummer, president; Harley Allion, vice-president; Marjorie Kiger, secretary; Ruth Meck, treasurer; Dr. Cecil Rew, advisor; Miss Florence Baird, critic.

INTELLECTUALS

As well-known as any organization on the campus is Book and Motor, honorary scholastic organization. Organized in 1934, its membership encompasses all the colleges in the university. The purpose of this organization of the academically elite is to bring campus recognition to students whose scholastic accomplishments are of the highest caliber.

Requirements for admission include a 3.4 point-average, a personality standing on the campus, an interest in extra-curricular activities and being of service to the university. Candidates meeting these requirements are brought into the organization twice a year by vote of active members.

All in all, Book and Motor enjoys four meetings a year. In the fall new members are elected and are initiated at the second meeting which is usually a Christmas party. In the spring newly eligible candidates plus those up for reconsideration are voted upon and those elected are formally initiated at the close of the year.

Super-intellects: Rex Moorhead, president; Owen Hughes, vice-president; Ruth Kohls, secretary; Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, treasurer; Miss Grace Tressel, Mr. R. M. Tunncliffe, Dr. Clyde Hissong, and Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, advisors.

EMBRYO EDUCATORS

One certain day in May, 1939, Dr. T. C. McCracken, national executive president of Kappa Delta Pi, paused long enough at Bowling Green State University to install the local Delta Pi chapter.

The raison d'être of Kappa Delta Pi is to encourage high intellectual and scholastic standards, and to recognize outstanding contributors to the field of education. Membership to the organization is based on high scholastic qualifications; it is open to juniors and seniors who rank in the upper quartile of their class in the College of Education.

This year the regional conference was held at the university and was attended by students from colleges having Kappa Delta Pi chapters, from New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio; eighty-eight delegates flocked onto the campus and conferred lustily for two days.

Some annual events of interest to these embryo educators are two formal banquets, one held late in the Fall, and the other in early Spring, and a tea for promising sophomores featured also in the spring.

Elevated Educators: Roberta Hanline, president; Marguerite Barker, vice-president; Janet Crum, secretary; Wayne Close, treasurer, and Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, advisor.

CALCULATORS

Kappa Mu Epsilon, national mathematics society, granted a charter to the Bowling Green State University Mathematics Club in May, 1937, to form the Ohio Alpha chapter.

The purposes are to promote interest in mathematics, keep its members in touch with the latest trends in math theory, present information concerning mathematics in education, and to acquaint the members with other groups.

Students with satisfactory scholarship records who have taken, or are enrolled in, integral calculus are eligible to election to membership. Initiations are held twice a year, the first being at Homecoming to enable graduate members to participate.

Meetings are held semi-monthly, with programs consisting of papers on mathematical topics, followed by a recreational period. "Recreation" sometimes consists of solving mathematical puzzles.

Big Figures: Darl Gatchell, president; Robert Barnett, vice-president; Vera Welty, secretary; Robert Rice, treasurer; Mrs. Anna Gryting, corresponding secretary; Dr. F. C. Ogg, advisor

MODERNIZERS

Recognizing the need of a group to carry on research with an aim to better the university, a group of far-sighted students and faculty organized the University Civic Research League in 1937 with the aim of studying and suggesting needed reforms on the campus. Membership is restricted to those holding a 3.0 average in social studies and is of an invitational nature.

Outstanding accomplishments of the current year were the beginning of a Student Union Building and a new bulletin board set-up.

The club is unique in that no officers are elected, but an advisory board is appointed by the members.

Reformers: Richard Dunipace, chairman; Joan Norsworthy, Kermit Hartzler, Robert Habenstein; William Mercer, secretary; Dr. Charles A. Barrell, advisor.

• PHI SIGMA MU

SINGING SCHOOL MASTERS

Beta chapter of Phi Sigma Mu, national fraternity for students of public school music, was organized at Bowling Green State University in 1925, with the purpose of improving public school music. Music students with a high scholastic average are eligible for membership.

Bowling Green representatives are sent to the national convention held in November. A get acquainted banquet for the entire music department in the fall, a Christmas party, and a spring picnic are a few of this group's activities. The semi-monthly meetings are devoted to study projects.

Leading Time-beaters: Robert Dierks, president; Helen Harrison, vice-president; Rose Dehnhoff, secretary; Phyllis Portmann, treasurer; Mr. R. M. Tunnicliffe and Mr. M. C. McEwen, advisors.

COUNT- AND DISCOUNTERS

Business Administration students sporting above average grades in at least a dozen hours of accounting and who maintain average grades in their run-of-the-curriculum courses are both eligible and welcome to Phi Alpha Chi.

Of 1938 vintage this organization seeks to promote high ethical ideals among members and to foster higher scholastic standards.

Meetings are held on the first and third Wednesday of each month. The diversified programs include guest speakers and round-table discussions of current accounting problems. Perhaps the most important function of the club is the well planned campaign put on each spring to help members secure positions.

DOMINUS ET DOMINA

The newest honorary fraternity on the campus, founded in 1940, is the Ohio Alpha chapter of Sigma Pi Rho, national Latin organization. Membership is limited to junior and senior Latin students with high scholastic averages. New members are elected into the society each spring.

The purpose is to stimulate interest in classical literature. Programs representing the various phases of Roman life and letters are given at the monthly meetings.

Five years ago the campus found itself richer in organization by the addition of the Kappa Delta chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity.

Membership is restricted to majors and minors in English having a workable knowledge of the language of the King, plus general high scholastic standing.

The purpose of this chapter is to promote worthwhile reading, aid in the mastery of written expression, and bring about a more friendly relationship among those especially interested in the field of English. Contributions of prose and poetry written by local members are sent in quarterly to the Rectangle, national organization publication. This magazine, made up of material sent from the sixty chapters throughout the United States, describes activities and programs of various colleges.

Meetings held at the home of Dr. Rea McCain, advisor, this year included book reviews, reading of original works, and talks by several guest speakers. The major project of the organization this year was the editing of a booklet composed of prose and poetry written by local talent.

Scribes: Dorothy Harris, president; Harriet McKnight, vice-president; Mary Cross, secretary-treasurer.

For the dual purpose of supplementing the work of the classroom and of stimulating interest in Spanish America the Spanish students two years ago organized El Circulo Hispanoamericano.

Members meet once a month, carry out the club's business in Spanish, and feature some type of related program each meeting.

Spanish plays are read and dramatized; members sing Mexican and Spanish songs, and reports of our South and Central American neighbors are given by the students. When possible outside speakers are brought in to talk of our Spanish speaking neighbors below the bulge. Each winter the Spanish club cooperates with other groups in putting on the International Bazaar.

This year the organization has been fortunate in being able to count among its members students from South and Central American who have acted as officers, leaders, and occasional translators—Julita Ingold of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Gloria Andrew of Humaco, Puerto Rico.

CHORISTERS

The University Choir, organized in 1927, is composed mainly of students enrolled in the public school music course, and of others whose schedules and abilities permit.

Its purposes are to encourage better choral singing, to present to the student body a large and select repertoire of the better musical compositions, to furnish suitable music for specific occasions, to portray the newer trends in interpreting music, to help develop a more appreciative conception of music on the part of the students, and to give music students a chance to put theory into practice.

Under the direction of Professor Merrill C. McEwen, the choir has worked on both sacred and secular music; has appeared before the student body several times during the year. It first appeared on the special Armistice Day assembly program. The most important presentation by the choir was the annual Christmas program given on December 19.

"The Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah, "Glory to God in the Highest," by Pergolesi, "Lullaby on Christmas Eve," by Christiansen, and "Beside Thy Cradle," from the Christmas Oratorio by Bach, were among the selections well received by the audience.

Composition: The Choir is composed of sixty-five members; seven seniors, fourteen juniors, thirteen sophomores, and twenty-five freshmen. Faculty members of the department who sing with the choir are Mrs. Irene Mooers, Miss Lois Collins, Prof. Leon B. Fauley, and Mr. Earl E. Smith.

MELODIERS

Oldest of its type on the campus, the Treble Clef Club was made official only this year through drawing up of a constitution. This instrument provided for tryouts for membership of any woman student on the campus carrying thirteen or more credit hours. The pupose of the club is to provide opportunity for group singing.

Outside activities this year started with the annual fall breakfast at the Parrot restaurant. Mrs. Roy V. Hilty, wife of the club's new director, sang several numbers, and Ione Geisel and Joan Brown led group singing.

The club then made several side trips to sing in churches at Toledo, Fort Wayne, Napoleon and Pandora. On April 25 the spring concert was held after which the Treble Clef and Men's Glee Club combined to have their annual spring formal in the Reception Hall. This year the dance was open to the entire campus.

Of High Note: Mary Mick, president; Kathryn Ellsworth, secretary; Hildreth Slater, librarian; Dorothy Mercer, business manager; Mr. Roy V. Hilty, director.

MELODY MEN

Ten years ago this year the Men's Glee Club was organized to give non-music students a chance to "burst forth in song."

Membership is open to all men who can gain the approval of Mr. Leon E. Fauley, providing the membership has not reached more than thirty-five members.

Glee Clubbers with special talents, aside from singing, are featured on the group's programs. Robert Berardi and his accordion, Norman Huffman and John Johanssen with their trumpets and Bruce Siegenthaler with his marionettes were the special attractions this year.

A home concert, appearances in the vicinity of Bowling Green, and the annual tour kept the club busy. On tour the Glee Club visited Sandusky, Cleveland, Akron, Massillon, Girard, Pennsylvania and Niagara Falls. In Massillon they were feted with a special dance in their honor.

High Notes: William Cryer, president; Paul Lindenmeyer, business manager; Joe Freeman, librarian; Glen Van Wormer, accompanist; Mr. Leon E. Fauley, advisor and director.

FOUR OF MANY

Perhaps one of the most popular organizations on the campus, the Varsity Quartette is selected annually from among the members of the Men's Glee Club and is featured on all of their programs.

The group, available all year for any engagement at any time, was constantly in demand for Kiwanis Clubs, Rotary Clubs, Farm Bureaus, and other civic organizations. In addition the four sang for all-campus functions whenever requested.

SITTING: William Cryer. STANDING: Walter McConnell, Richard Jaynes, Meredith Cramer.

SYMPHONIZERS

Since the time of its founding in 1926, the Concert Orchestra has been an organization of increasing membership and popularity.

Purposes of the organization are to introduce the members to better music, provide and encourage the appreciation of classical music on the campus, and improve the status of the group.

Eligibility to the orchestra is determined solely by ability to play an orchestral instrument. Membership is open to both music and non-music students and special encouragement is given to all those interested in joining. Every Monday evening two hour rehearsals are held.

Each year the orchestra makes several appearances, playing for dramatic performances, assembly programs, and various joint recitals and concerts. Special feature of this year was a joint concert with the Bluffton College orchestra of fifty members. The event was sponsored to promote inter-collegiate goodwill and inspire better musicianship.

First chairs: Wanda Lane, president; Rachel Huston, vice-president; Mary Marshall, secretary-treasurer; Earl E. Smith, director.

FRONT ROW: Paul Bishop, Mary Marshall, Joseph Nordmann, McDonna Sitterle, Geraldine Curl, Rachel Huston, Adelaide Saint, Marilyn Boyles. ## TUNESMITHS

The Marching Band has traveled far since 1923 when Prof. E. C. Powell organized 15 fellows to perform as our marching band. Since they had no uniforms Professor Powell gave each member a freshman cap. This year the organization had approximately 50 members.

Any able musician who is willing to cooperate is eligible for membership. The purpose is to stimulate school spirit at athletic events.

Despite the rain at the Homecoming game with Michigan Normal, the band performed its maneuvers like a well trained army unit.

The Athletic Association sponsored two out-of-town appearances for the band—the night game at Findlay, and at Wooster. On the Oilers' field the band formed a derrick and at Wooster, it outlined Ohio while the opposing band formed the letters U.S.A. in the center.

Jane Shaw, Fostoria, for the third year was head drum majorette. Assisting her were two freshman drum majors, Dow Mitchell, Wayne, Michigan, and Max Ihrig, Montpelier.

Majors: Howard Huffman, president; Jack Spencer, vice-president; Walter McConnell, secretary; Mr. E. E. Smith, director.

CONCERTIZERS

First organized in 1927, discontinued for a year, and then reorganized in 1929. So reads the history of the Bowling Green State University Concert Band. It has been under the direction of Prof. Charles Church from the time of its reorganization until this year when he left to work on his Doctor's degree. This year it has been under the capable direction of the new band director, Mr. Earl E. Smith.

It is composed of about fifty music and non-music students who play voluntarily for the satisfaction that they derive from playing their instruments. Increasing interest in the last few years has resulted in great strides in progress.

The band tries to prepare and present the best available band literature. Among some of the more popular selections they have worked on this year are: "Capriccio Italien" and "Marche Slav" by Peter Tschaikowsky and "Coriolan" and "Egmont" overtures by Ludwig van Beethoven.

The band makes a number of concert appearances each year. Among these are included several outdoor concerts.

Maestros: Robert Dierks, president and librarian; Roger Gifford, secretary.

(1) New football coach, Whittaker, demonstrates prospective play for next year. (2) Little Orson Wells and other guests take time out to enjoy refreshments. (3) Dress rehearsal before a big blow-out. (4) Prexy and Mrs. Prout step out. (5) Whatever Cadwallader is saying, he surely must mean it. (6) A sure sign of spring. But, hey, men, let 'em roll their own. (7) Warm smiles, handshakes, and cordial greetings . . . Students really meet their faculty. (8) Kohl Hall's own local medicine show. It alone is good for what ails you. (9) The Windmill . . . (12) LaVere Herringshaw stares one down and there is no time and a half for overtime in this work. (13) One of the essentials of college, books, hence the book store.

PUBLICATIONS

Words and pictures . . . Hard working editors rant, advisers complain . . . Importance of deadlines . . .
Staff shirks assignments . . . Finally the publication.

After twenty-five years of publication, the Bee Gee News has blossomed forth into what the editors are pleased to call a real big-time college paper. For proof they point to its seven-column format, wealth of advertising, balanced style and news presentation. Best of all, however, is the All-American rating as given by Associated Collegiate Press, accrediting agency for all college publications. Student journalists agree that no campus newspaper is any better than the people who write the stories, paste the galleys, and sell the ads. Suffice to say the metamorphosis of the Bee Gee News represents a culmination of knowledge gained through painful editing experiences of past publications. This of course must be combined with the help from "above" which included the creation of a department of journalism and the subsequent correlation between department and news staff.

On the other hand, few would hesitate to say that the intelligence and industry of editors and department heads must in the end decide the quality of the publication. Along this line credit must be bestowed on Tony Frances, veteran campus newsman, three semester editor and present Ohio College Newspaper Association president; on business manager Darl Gatchell, balancing books as neatly as he appears behind his well-ordered desk; on Richard Dunipace who brings athletics to life as he edits the sports page and in odd moments is apt to bang out any amount of copy, thus proving he's more than just an editor.

Three special writers who weighted down the editorial page with regular columns are Al Boucher, student economist; Robert Habenstein, aspiring sociologist; and the combination wordsmith, jokesmith and assistant editor, Jesse Mittleman.

Other merit deserving special writers are Martha Walrath, society editor; Max Hanke, creator of "The Mail Box;" and Pauline Aeschliman, writer of "Shorts and Slacks."

Last mentioned but invaluable to the paper is Jesse J. Currier, faculty advisor and instructor in journalism.

NEWS BUREAU

Established in 1939 as a service function for Northwestern Ohio newspapers, the University News Bureau has grown to include statewide coverage for newsworthy campus doings.

Several thousand news releases have gone out this year to Ohio's dailies and weeklies, press associations, trade journals, and radio stations.

Almost daily come requests from editors for individual coverage of campus events, photographs or information about home-town "Johns and Marys" making good at Bowling Green State University.

Besides general news distribution activities the Bureau cooperates in production of campus bulletins and departmental publications. General aim is to coordinate all news-promotional activities of the campus.

Headed by the journalism instructor, the Bureau maintains a close tie between campus and off-campus publications. A student staff of assistants help with typing, mailing, and news gathering.

News Bureau Names: Mr. Jesse J. Currier, director; Ruth Meck, typist; Martha Walrath, typist; Carl LaRue, mailing clerk; Charles Rankowski, photography assistant; Al Sautter, sports assistant.

Harry Ockerman

The beginning of the second semester found a reorganized physical education program being inaugurated at the University. Harry Ockerman, head football coach for the past six years, was made the head of the Department of Physical Education and director of inter-collegiate athletics. Taking his place as chief football mentor was Robert Whittaker, former coach at Sandusky High School, who also coaches freshman track.

In the same move Warren E. Steller, former director of athletics, became head of Men's Physical Education, continuing his position as varsity baseball coach.

The intramural department, with a "sport for every man" program, expanded to include touch football, bowling, golf, and wrestling. In addition, golf and wrestling were added to the list of inter-collegiate sports. Remaining at the head of this department is Paul E. Landis, varsity basketball and track coach.

Bud Cox continues in his capacity as varsity swimming, tennis, and line coach. Joe Glander, trainer for inter-collegiate athletics attends to boxing, wrestling, and assisting in track, while Fred Marsh coaches freshman football, basketball, and varsity golf.

Mike Kormazis and LaMar "Posty" Knecht were appointed graduate assistant coaches.

A vastly improved Bowling Green eleven had little trouble subduing the Oilers 14-7, in a game that featured a 40-yard touchdown jaunt by Brudzinski, the longest of the season. This was the first time in the history of the school that a varsity eleven had performed under lights.

FROM "OUT OF BOUNDS"

The Falcon basketeers pounded through a full schedule in a season which must be considered far from unsuccessful. Captain Dewey Johnson's 215 points for the season were plenty good enough to give him the individual scoring honors for the year and it also boosts his two-year total to 415 tallies, ranking him with the top scorers in the state . . . following him in the scoring column were captain-elect Phil Ricketts with 140; Mike Kish, 112; Don Mason, 106; Jean Harkness, 83; Mike Marko, 71; Pat Patterson, 47; Tom Temple, 25; Chuch Buckenmyer, 21; Larry Conrad, 16; Zip Sherman, 14; Don Halliwell, 13; and Wayne Rudy, 5 . . . Big Mike Marko will be the only veteran that coach Landis will lose, leaving seven veterans with which to build a 1941-1942 Falcon quintet.

The Orange and Brown racked up 860 points for the season for an average of 39 per contest . . . across the ledger the opponents banged home 886 tallies for a point-a-minute average . . . winning eight while dropping ten contests . . . Letter winners were Johnson, Patterson, Ricketts, Mason, and Marko, all two-year veterans, and Kish, Harkness, and Conrad, first-year award winners.

SECOND ROW: Budd Cox, Bob Osthimer, Don Greitham, Norm Robertson, Alfred Adelman, Dick Camp.

SWIMMING

Coach Budd Cox's swimming team splashed and sputtered along merrily the past season to the tune of seven wins.

That it lost one more meet than it won is of small significance when one considers that this is only the second year that a swimming team has existed at our university.

Cox has another point for argument, too, for the team had won five out of the first seven meets. The second semester, however, found the point-grabbing Don "Paddles" Greetham laid up on the ineligibility shelf. After that, victories came much harder.

Back-stroking Jack Doane, two-year captain, has given over his job to Norm Robertson who will guide the team next winter through a tough twelve meet card.

We need only to look into the records to see that Coach Landis has turned out track teams which have ranked high in Ohio collegiate circles.

It is seldom, however, that the coach can boast of an honest-to-goodness star who will consistently take anywhere up to a half dozen firsts in every meet. This year such an athlete was found in the person of Eddie Wellner. This blonde haired flash has excelled in no less than six events, including both hurdle races, the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and the broad and high jumps.

Other outstanding cindermen are captain Dwight Toedter, half miler; Clarence Goterba, dash and hurdle man, and Jay Parker, miler. The year's schedule, and a tough one at that, included four dual, two triangular and a pair of larger meets late in the spring.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

MINOR SPORTS

Athletics, yes, but on a smaller scale . . . Racquets swung, flies shagged, and country crossed . . . Energy expended not measured by size of award.

SECOND ROW: Ken Winslow, Louis DeSandro, Paul E. Landis, Dwight Toedter.

Bowling Green State University's hill and dalers split even in a four meet schedule, and then ran fourth in the Ohio Conference meet at Oberlin.

Leading harrier for the Falcons was Louis DeSandro who ran first for Bowling Green and placed fifth in the conference jaunt. Usually close on his heels in all meets was Jay Parker—as reliable as they come.

CROSS COUNTRY

WRESTLING

For the first time in the history of the institution, Bowling Green State was represented by an inter-collegiate wrestling team. It was coached by Joe Glander, also new this year to the campus.

The grapplers opened with an 18-13 win over Mt. Vernon Y. M. C. A., which happened to be coached by George Rozell, former Bowling Green professional wrestler. Poorer luck followed as the team then dropped matches to Toledo Y. M. C. A. 23-8, and to the powerful Findlay Oilers 23-3.

BASEBALL

This year the Falcon baseball nine had something to be proud of. The long awaited new diamond finally became a reality and the players found out how it feels to play on a good diamond. Fast work and favorable weather combined to have the new field, located back of the riding school, ready for the opener.

Coach Warren "Nig" Steller again coached the team, composed of nearly all veterans. Absent from the line up were those few who heard the call of organized baseball and are now somewhere in the major and minor circuits.

The opener, an 11-9 slugfest was dropped to Ashland college, but the local batsmen came back on the rebound and neatly polished off Wayne University at Detroit, largely through the versatility of Steve Brudzinski.

Following these openers, the team played:

Heidelberg
 Kent State (at Kent)
 Ashland (at Ashland)
 University of Detroit
 Michigan Normal
 Wayne University
 Findlay

FRONT ROW: Don Mason, Jim Stearns, Jim Hollinger, Jim Miller, SECOND ROW: Charles Snyder, Bill Weaver, Ralph Foster, Morris Hendrickson.

TENNIS

Bowling Green State's racquet wielders, under their new coach, Morris Hendrickson, encountered this spring an abbreviated schedule of five meets.

Despite this fact, the racquetmen pounded the cement courts with much spirit and only few shin splints in their daily practices. Reward for this hard work was quick in coming, and the first match played with Wittenberg found coach Hendrickson's boys justly on top.

GOLF

For the first time in the history of the university, golf was included on the list of inter-collegiate athletics. The links-men, coached by Fred Marsh, faced an eight match schedule.

Though the team couldn't boast many sub-par shooters, there seemed to be enough interest shown to make up the deficiency, as nearly twenty enthusiastic candidates reported for the squad's first meeting.

SPORT FOR ALL

A college intramural program succeeds in direct ratio to the effort put into it by the managers and the amount of cooperation shown by the students.

This year the program, Landis-planned and Wayland-managed, gave some evidence that intramurals are headed for better times in this man's university.

The expansion of the student body was met in two ways. First, more space was given for the activities and, secondly, the program was enlarged enough to be mottoed "A sport for every man," with no satire intended.

In addition to serving the student body not participating in inter-collegiate sports with some physical recreation, the program also served as a proving ground for athletes who apparently lacked certain fundamentals or experience. For the first time in intramural history, an independent team won the basketball tournament.

The self-styled "Three Brothers" defeated the Delhi's in the final game.

(1) Handball, a popular pastime on the campus. (2) Ah-h-h-h, there's nothing like a good stretch. (3) Last seconds in the finals of the boxing tournament. (4) Please! Don't sneeze. (5) The winnah, Robert Keough! (6) Don Brill in a high swan dive. Puts a swan to shame, doesn't it?

(1) A bit of tough luck that met Steve and consequently the team in late season. (2) It's spring, it's the frosh, and it's a strike. (3) Soft ball? Pretty soft, we'd say. (4) An every day scene . . . without towels. (5) Six lessons from handsome professional, Don Blatchford. (6) Behind the scene, where muscles are soothed and men are poohed. (7) Holzaepfel heads for pay dirt.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

Co-eds in action . . . Friendly competition within the school . . . Widespread program that works . . . Cooperation to produce a sound body.

CO-ED COMPETITORS

Feminine athletics in the university are taken in hand by the Women's Athletic Association, better known as the W. A. A. Through its guidance the co-eds, under mildly competitive conditions, find themselves, at various times, members of various teams.

Generally speaking, the W. A. A. emphasizes the athletic end of the co-eds program. But besides basketball, hockey, archery, ping-pong, soccer, baseball, and other minor sports, such special affairs as square and ball room dancing courses, open house, professional dance exhibitions, the annual Wakan Campfire service come under the sphere of this co-ed organization.

(1) Fun and frolic at the W. A. A. Carnival. (2) A winning combination for badminton, et cetera, n'est pas? (3) Come on, girls, sock 'er! (4) Wait a minute! There's the ball behind you. (5) Eleanor Christman waits for service, but it actually isn't so slow. (6) Strike . . . it must have been, notice the umpire. (7) Modern Dancing . . . a popular new course that improves the figure as well as the mind. (8) Whee! cried the little fishies, oh, what mermaids!

A LAST WORD FROM DON . . .

In compiling this pictorial review of life on the campus of Bowling Green State University, over three thousand hours of work were given by the various members of the staff, cheerfully and otherwise, so that the student body could enjoy a book of campus memories. Should the 1941 KEY be a success, the editor will get the praise and those who actually did the detailed and monotonous work will probably be forgotten. Should the KEY be a failure, the editor will get—plenty—and the rest will be able to relax in that comfortable feeling that they merely followed the editor's instructions.

Speaking now for the senior class, may I say that we have tried to present an annual which would contain some innovations, and possibly place it on a plane with those published by the best colleges and universities of the country. Win, lose, or draw, let it be known that we have enjoyed the past year producing the KEY, and we hope you will use it rather than inter it in your book case. Study the pictures for the story they tell and try reading the copy for a change. Perhaps you have missed something.

Now, as editor, I would like to give credit where credit is due—to the various members of the staff who have labored so diligently and have neglected not only their social life but their studies as well.

Probably those who deserve the most praise are the assistant editors, Bruce Esterly and Francis Ruth. Without them — no KEY. Literary chief Harriet McKnight gave the final okay to the copy which Robert Habenstein, fugitive from the field of sociology, consistently rewrote.

Ernest Maddock, business manager, guarded the purse strings with bulldog-like tenacity and increased the advertising more than twenty per cent over last year. Jesse J. Currier burned liberal amounts of midnight oil, tore out liberal handfuls of curly chestnut hair and gave liberal criticism as he functioned as faculty advisor.

Much assistance and many helpful suggestions were tendered by the following salesmen, with whose help this annual was produced: W. C. Sims of the David J. Molloy cover plant; W. S. Nusbaum of the Gray Printing Company; H. M. McGuire of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company; and the studio photographer, Ariel Walker, who willingly cooperated to help meet every photographic deadline.

Last, but not least, allow me to express appreciation for the cooperation of the organizations and the student body as a whole. So au revoir to all and good luck to the graduating seniors, to whom, it is our hope, the 1941 KEY always will be a book extra-special.

Sincerely,
DONALD R. RAGER
Editor

HIGHLIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

The General Assembly of 1910 passed an act authorizing the establishment of Bowling Green State Normal College.

The first session was held in 1914 with an enrollment of 304 full-time students; the first graduating class numbering 35.

Bowling Green absorbed the Toledo City Training School and held their classes three days of the week in the Armory in Bowling Green and the remaining three days, the faculty traveled to Toledo and taught in the old Central High School.

In the beginning there were nine subjects offered—Agriculture, Education, English, History, Household Arts, Industrial Arts, Mathematics, Music, and Science.

Three members of the present faculty have served since the first session.

BEFORE SHATZEL—

Only one degree was offered, the Bachelor of Science in Education, until 1929. Degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science were added at that time. In 1935 the College of Business Administration was added along with work leading to the Master of Arts degree.

Three presidents have served since the founding of Bowling Green State Normal College. In 1912 the Board of Trustees appointed Dr. H. B. Williams, who served until 1937. Upon his retirement he was succeeded by Dr. R. E. Offenbauer whose administration was ended by his tragic death. Dr. Williams served in the capacity of acting president until the appointment of Dr. F. J. Prout in April, 1939.

Bowling Green State University has had three names since its founding. From 1912 until 1929 it was known as Bowling Green State Normal College. From 1929 until 1935 it was known as Bowling Green State College, and the present name—Bowling Green State University.

The total enrollment for 1941 reached 1673 with 1,009 in the College of Education; 328 in the College of Liberal Arts; 248 in the College of Business Administration; and 57 working toward Masters degree in graduate school.

Including the graduating class of 1941 there are 5,500 graduates with 4,000 registered in the Alumni Bureau headed by President Emeritus Dr. Williams.

The present value of grounds and equipment is three million dollars with a student union building in the process of construction.

THE KEY COMES OF AGE

On the recommendation of Leon Loyal Winslow, faculty advisor, the first annual publication was placed in the hands of the student body of Bowling Green State Normal College in 1918 with the title of the BEE GEE. It was edited by Miss Elsie C. Myer.

The next issue was published in 1919 by the graduating sophomore class. A yearbook was not published again until 1924 when the annual which first used the name KEY was placed in the students' hands. Dean J. R. Overman was the advisor at that time. On Tuesday, January 29, 1924, the entire chapel period was devoted to a speech about annuals, given by Coach McCandless. During his speech, the coach several times referred to his own annual as a key which he used to unlock past memories of college days. Professor Overman conceived the idea that the annual would become known thereafter as the KEY. The suggestion met with unanimous approval and the annual is, to this day, the KEY.

The 1925 edition was an anniversary issue edited by C. Delano Fox, present superintendent of schools at Van Wert and president of the Bowling Green University Alumni Association. The book celebrated the tenth anniversary with complete news and history of the preceding ten years.

The KEY was then published in the 7½ by 10½ inch size with a leatherette cover, with the exception of the depression years of 1933 and 1935 when the BEE GEE NEWS issued small paper covered volumes. In 1938 the KEY was increased to the present size, 9 by 12 inches.
